WASHINGTON, April 11.—The Navy department today announced that the U. S. submarine, Perch, under the command of Lt. Commander David Albert Hurt, of Pounding Mill, Va., and carrying an estimated crew of 50, has been overdue for more than a month and must be presumed lost.

Announcement was made by the Navy in a communique. It was the 29th naval craft lost so far in this war and the fourth submarine to go down.

Was In Java Sea
The Perch was operating in the Java Sea when last heard from.

The Perch was commissioned on November 19, 1936, and was assigned as a flag ship for a submarine force and then later was assigned to the Asiatic Fleet. She was an undersea craft of 1,300 tons and was more than 300 feet in length.

Other submarines lost in addition to the Perch so far in this war were the Shark, long overdue and presumed sunk in Far Eastern waters, the S-36 which was sunk in a collision off Panama, and the Sea Lion which was demolished at the Cavite Naval Base.

Crews Reboard Sinking Ships And Save Them

Two Merchant Vessels Attacked By Submarines Are Brought To Port

(International News Service)
NORFOLK, Va., April 11.—Crew members of two American merchant ships today told how they re-boarded their sinking vessels and brought them safely to port after being shelled and torpedoed by Axis submarines.

One member of the 35-man crew of the torpedoed craft—hit last Monday—is missing. The Fifth Naval District announced in revealing the attacks. On the ship that was shelled two men were known dead, seven missing, and four of the 25 survivors seriously injured. The survivors occurred April 2.

The torpedoed vessel was struck amidships, according to Radio Operator William Morris, who said that he was unable to send out "SOS" as the blast put his equipment out of commission. Morris said the crew took to lifeboats, but they returned when the ship failed to sink.

"It took us two hours to beach her as she had moved away from us," he added. "We went back aboard—and here we are."

Capt. Frank G. Girardeau, of the shelled craft, said he ordered all hands off when the ship appeared doomed. Shortly after the crew pulled away from the stricken boat the attacking submarine submerged. At dawn, the survivors saw their crippled ship still floating nearby and went back on board.

MELBOURNE, April 11.—While American and Australian fliers inflict punishing blows against Japanese bases in the southwest Pacific, Manuel Quezon, president of the exiled Philippines government, declared today that the fall of Bataan Peninsula had not ended the war in his native islands.

Quezon promised that Filipino forces would continue to battle along-side American troops still remaining in the Philippines territory unconquered by the Japanese.

SOVIET DRIVES INTO GERMAN LINES

(International News Service)
MOSCOW, April 11.—The Red army high command announced today that more than 3,000 Germans have been killed in fierce fighting during the past few days on the Bryansk front southwest of Moscow.

In Leningrad area, where Soviet forces have driven a deep wedge into German lines to relieve pressure on the besieged city, 1,600 Nazis were killed in a two-day battle, it was said. Four German battalions were routed on the Leningrad front, the army newspaper, Red Star, reported.

The Moscow radio reported that Russian forces had occupied another important village stronghold near the southern front after inflicting heavy casualties on the Germans.

More Localities Taken
A supplement to the mid-day communique said several inhabited localities on the Bryansk front had been freed, while numerous other local successes were scored on the Kalinin front.

New victories on the Smolensk front, west of Moscow, and in the vicinity of Bryansk, to the southwest, were reported to have resulted in the capture of four strategic points.

London Parley Near Decision On War Moves

By CHARLES A. SMITH

LONDON, April 11.—From the secrecy surrounding three days of almost incessant talks between the British and American staff chiefs in London, certain points were beginning to emerge today in regard to definite subjects under discussion.

Three prime conclusions can be drawn:
(1) First and foremost is that aid to Russia will be continued to the full, and the United States will aid the Russians in every way possible to enable them to weather the expected German counter-offensive.

(2) There is a full realization by both sides that the policy of defense alone cannot return dividends and they must turn to the offensive at the earliest possible moment.

(3) Problem of where to act offensively can only be decided in the cold light of available strength, particularly in the air and on the sea and always in consideration of the merchant shipping situation.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—With the bombardment of Corregidor being relentlessly pursued, the battle of Cebu today was a full-scale invasion force of 12,000 troops supported by tanks landed on the island despite heavy casualties inflicted by the tiny little band of American Filipino defenders.

Disclosure of the invasion of Cebu was made in a war department communique which stated that the landing force was backed up by enemy dive-bombers and a heavy barrage laid down by Jap naval vessels off the island.

Heavy Attacks On Corregidor
Lieutenant General Jonathan M. Wainwright reported that Corregidor, from where he directs the battle, and Fort Hughes—both in the Manila Bay area—were subjected to fierce artillery cross-fire and heavy air attacks.

Little damage was reported, however, on Corregidor and the other American held forts in Manila Bay, on which Wainwright's forces are making a final stand against the Japanese following the fall of Bataan.

On Cebu, the war department reported that the defenders "continue to resist stubbornly" and that enemy casualties have been "heavy."

Insurance Benefits For Unemployed In State To Be Boosted

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 11.—Increased insurance benefits today are assured unemployed workers from the state's $230,000,000 jobless fund as a result of the enactment by the special session of the legislature of a revised unemployment compensation law.

Gov. Arthur H. James is expected to sign the bill. Drafters of the new law asserted that the increase would total from $20,000,000 to $25,000,000 a year compared to the amounts disbursed in 1938, the first year benefits were paid under the original act, which was passed in December 1936.

Senate Bill Accepted
Enactment of the revised legislation was at first threatened through the inability of the Democratic house and Republican senate to agree upon procedure, each having passed its own bill. A conference committee of the two houses finally reached an agreement.

It was not a compromise, however, for the house was forced to agree to the acceptance of the senate bill in its entirety. The other alternative, senate spokesmen made clear, was no bill at all. Rather than see the legislation meet the same fate it did in 1941, when a conference committee was unable to agree, the house capitulated and accepted the senate bill in toto.

All that the house obtained was the senate's approval of the creation of a legislative committee to study the feasibility of unemployed compensation payments to partially-employed persons and the governor's promise to approve a $5,000 appropriation for its expenses. The (Continued On Page Two)

Industries Of City And County Discuss Plans For Collecting Scrap

Industries of New Castle and Lawrence County were well represented Friday night when a salvage meeting was held in the Greater New Castle Association offices in The Castleton Hotel. Industrial salvage was the chief topic of discussion although the plan for collecting scrap in this county was presented by Ross D. Rosenberger, chairman.

R. D. McGiffert, assistant regional director, of the Bureau of Industrial Conservation, Philadelphia office, was the speaker and talked to the managers and foremen present of the methods of scrap collection in other places. In the forum discussion which followed his talk it was brought out that much of the industrial scrap here had been collected.

With Mr. McGiffert were J. C. Deibel and George P. Rhodes, Jr., field representatives of the War Production Board's industrial salvage section for Western Pennsylvania.

Well Protected Fleet Of Cargo Ships Rushing Aid To Soviet Union

TWO DIFFERENT ROUTES ARE USED

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Responsible sources in Washington today disclosed that the flow of American war supplies to Soviet Russia is being speeded up rapidly.

A large fleet of United Nations cargo ships protected by the American and British navies, is rushing vital implements of war to the Soviet Union by two different routes.

Priority rating has been granted shipments to Russia in an effort to get American war supplies there in time to help check the terrific offensive which Adolf Hitler is expected to launch against the Soviet Union early this summer.

There are now strong indications in official quarters that a "hold Russia" policy has been decided upon as a major part of the United Nations' grand strategy this summer.

Three Members Of Crew Hurt

Plane Overshoots Runway Of New York Field And Rolls Into Bay

PASSENGERS NOT HURT IN ACCIDENT

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
NEW YORK, April 11.—Three members of the crew of a United Air Lines passenger transport plane were injured early today when the plane overshot the runway in landing at La Guardia Airport and rolled off the edge of the field into Bowers Bay. Six passengers aboard the "Mainliner" escaped without even getting their feet wet.

The injured were Pilot Captain Douglas Wilson, Co-Pilot Butcher and Hostess Josephine Dargia, 23, of Chicago. Wilson was cut over the eye and Butcher sprained his leg. Miss Dargia suffered internal injuries and was taken to Flushing hospital.

Passengers On Plane

The passengers, none of whom requested medical assistance were Miss Winifred Whitehead of Cleveland; Miss Estelle Prudhomme also of Cleveland; Mrs. Anna Clampt of New York; George Jacoby, assistant personnel director of the Buick Automobile company, Flint, Mich.; and Gaylord Gray Jr., of Des Moines, Iowa. John Lovett, a United Air Lines co-pilot also was a passenger.

The plane, identified as Flight 12 originating at Oakland, Calif., had left Chicago at 11:55 p. m. last night and stopped at Cleveland to pick up passengers.

Witnesses said that in coming in to land at LaGuardia Field it apparently overshot the runway. The plane landed safely, but then continued to roll until it went over the edge of the field into the bay, near the Pan-American Airways hangars.

Crash boats rushed to the scene and removed the injured and passengers quickly before the big two-motored ship settled into the mud of the bay.

It was not believed the plane was damaged to any great extent.

Only the plane's tail remained out of the water after the ship settled. Company officials made preparations to have the airliner pulled to safety.

small American and Philippine force, the enemy was able to effect a landing on the island of Cebu on April 10, the communiqué stated.

Estimated at 12,000, the Japanese force now debarking on that island is estimated at 12,000. The landing is being supported by dive bombers and a heavy fire from hostile naval vessels. Tank units have been landed by the Japanese.

It was evident that the landing force was the invasion armada of five warships and 10 transports which Wainwright reported off Cebu yesterday. At that time, he advised the war department that one of the fleet of American torpedo boats defending the island had sunk a Japanese cruiser.

Resist Fiercely
Meanwhile, the garrisons on Corregidor and Fort Hughes, bolstered by nearly 3,500 Marines and Blue-jackets who escaped from Bataan, fiercely resisted the renewed enemy onslaughts.

Corregidor and Fort Hughes in Manila Bay were subjected to intensive air attacks during the past 24 hours, the communiqué said. "However, our casualties were few and the damage inflicted was slight."

The artillery cross fire came from Japanese batteries on Bataan, north of Corregidor, and from the south shore of Manila Bay.

Wainwright also reported that he still has been unable to communicate with any of the 36,800 American-Philippine troops who were trapped on Bataan when the peninsula's defenses were overwhelmed by the superior enemy forces.

The establishment of new plants or the extension or conversion of existing plants in various industries in Switzerland has been curtailed, reports to the Department of Commerce say.

schools, however, and in rural areas where summer vacations begin early, different hours may be observed. At any rate, the announcement will be made locally.

Officials estimate that the regulation program will require four or five minutes per individual. Teachers will fill out forms with each registrant's name, address and amount of sugar on hand and then pass out a ration book. One person is requested to represent all members of the family to avoid congestion.

The plans call for the school teachers to conclude the clerical work involved within the four-day registration period. Officials expressed belief that the forms are simple enough to make this possible except in a few isolated cases where registration may be unexpectedly heavy.

The housewife is permitted to have on hand two pounds of sugar for each member of the family. For each pound over this limit—up to and including six pounds per individual—one stamp will be torn out of the rationing book. If the family hoard included seven pounds or more per individual no book will be issued. The applicant will have to apply two weeks later.

O.P.A. officials have not yet determined how much sugar each stamp in the rationing book will entitle the holder to purchase. Estimates have ranged from 8 to 12 ounces per week for each stamp.

ficial circles that if Hitler fails to destroy the Russian armies this summer, his doom is sealed and Germany may be knocked out of the war next year.

Therefore, both the American and British governments appear determined to do their utmost to aid Russia. In addition to sending supplies direct to the Soviet Union, the United States and Great Britain are expected to launch diversion attacks against Germany and her Axis forces in western Europe and North Africa.

Diplomatic circles here believe an American air force will play a prominent role in the gigantic aerial offensive which is scheduled to be launched from the British Isles this summer against Germany and German-occupied territory on the European continent.

Commando raids by British forces, perhaps reinforced by American troops, also are expected to be intensified against the German-held positions along the North Sea and English Channel coasts. The possibility is seen in United Nations diplomatic circles that an attempt may even be made during the summer to establish a bridgehead in Norway or on the French side of the English Channel.

would have to advise his government that "no measure of acceptance of their proposals" justify a declaration to put into effect the British plan for post-war dominion status.

Sir Stafford said that the real substance of the refusal of the plan by the Congress Party president, Maulana Abul Azad, was that his participation in a national government such as the British government proposed would not enable Azad to rally the Indian people as he desires.

"His Majesty's government's draft declarations, therefore, have been withdrawn and we revert to the position as it was before I came to India," Sir Stafford said in announcing the failure of negotiations.

Concerning the issue of defense which resulted in much argument because the Indians wanted one of their own people as defense minister, while the British wished to retain complete control of that post, Sir Stafford said:

"Nothing more regarding defense could be done without jeopardizing the immediate defense of India under Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell, which is a paramount duty and responsibility of His Majesty's government."

"Unity of command is essential in the interest of Allied help to India."

The Congress Party meanwhile published the text of their main resolution which said they were unable to accept the proposals.

The Governor was advised at the executive mansion of the Senate's surprise action and hurried over to the capitol to receive the committee.

Although there appeared to be no precedent for the Senate's procedure, no one questioned the constitutionality of the move, as both Houses had previously adopted a concurrent resolution calling for adjournment sine die at 4 p. m. Both houses had intended to remain in session until all work was completed, but house democratic leaders became angered over what they termed the "dilly-dallying" of the republican senate chiefs and recessed the house, "We don't intend to keep our members up all night," said Speaker of the House Elmer Kilroy.

Firm Faith In U. S.
Quezon expressed the firm faith which his people have in America in his first public statement since arrival in Australia after a hazardous trip from the Philippines. He praised the magnificent stand made by the Americans in the islands and said his people deeply appreciated the effort.

"The fall of Bataan," he said, "closes a chapter in the history of the struggle of the Filipino people for freedom as heroic, if not the most heroic, as we have ever fought."

"Side by side with their American comrades, first under the personal leadership of General MacArthur, and later of General Wainwright, our forces fought without air support against a foe that had at all times absolute command of the air and sea, and an overwhelming superiority in number of land forces."

Became Exhausted
"This fight lasted as long as resistance was humanly possible, for our forces gave up only after they had become exhausted from lack of food and continuous battle."

"I am proud of the part that Filipino forces have taken in this epic battle, and I am profoundly grateful to the whole army which has thus vindicated the honor and right of the Filipino people to become an independent nation."

"Their country and their countrymen will consider every man who took part in this battle as a national hero and will feel undying gratitude for the service they have rendered."

"The loss of Bataan has not ended the war in the Philippines. Corregidor, the Visayan Islands and Mindanao are still fighting the enemy and I am certain that all these places will be defended as long as there are means with which to defend them."

"The Filipino people will stand by America and our allies to the bitter end."

Philadelphia, April 11.—Maxim M. Litvin, Russian ambassador to the United States, today called upon the United Nations to unite with the Red army in smashing Hitler now.

The Soviet diplomat told the annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science that Hitler cannot be decisively beaten except in Russia and emphasized that it needs British and "some" American help for the destruction of the Nazi juggernaut.

His appeal for united efforts was more pronounced than in his previous appeals made in speeches in New York City.

Cairo, April 11.—Axis columns in Libya attempting to move eastward from positions around Tmimi and Mekki were shelled throughout yesterday by British imperial forces, the Middle East command said today.

"There was minor enemy activity yesterday," the communiqué said.

"Throughout the day our forces shelled small enemy columns attempting to move in the forward sector."

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TEACH CHILD TO DRINK ENOUGH MILK

"DEAR DR. MYERS—I am again writing you with the hope that you will assist me in my difficulty. My first problem arose from the fact that my little girl did not nap in the afternoon. I followed your advice and now have no difficulty in that respect.

"I am confronted with another problem. For some reason, my child 23-months-old, refuses to drink any milk, and pushes it away from her at every meal. She eats her other food well but will not even touch her milk. She was breast-fed and I never could get her to drink much cow's milk. She would drink about 20 ounces a day but it had to be given her in a bottle. She always drank water and juices out of a glass, since I weaned her, but not milk for which I think she has a dislike.

"I tried then and have been trying right along to have her drink her milk out of a glass, but she always has refused to do so. Therefore, I resorted to the method of giving her milk out of a bottle because that was the only way she would drink it and I knew she had to have it in order to thrive properly.

"Last week the nipple of her bottle, being soft from constant use, broke and when I substituted a new one she would not take it. Since then she will not take the bottle or drink milk out of a glass. I have tried all sorts of methods, such as trying to get her to drink out of small, attractive cups and glasses—all to no avail. I am enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp. Please help me."

The Doctor's Advice

Since she drinks no milk from a glass, cup or bottle, I suggest you proceed as follows: Place a very small cup or glass of milk before her at the beginning of her meal. Have no other food in sight. Have no other person present. It might also be well to place this milk on a low chair or table and let her walk up to it or not as she likes. Merely attract her attention to the milk. Say nothing more. Go about your work and find a way to be very busy. If, after five minutes, she does not, of her own accord, drink the milk, pick it up saying nothing and take it to the kitchen. Let her meal end there no matter how much she begs for food. Make sure she can get no food till the next meal time, when she will be offered a small cup of milk as before.

If she holds out for more than three meals, or develops nausea, call your doctor. The chances are she won't hold out for more than two meals at most.

Once she decides to drink the milk let her have other foods as usual. After several meals with success, not varying one bit from this procedure, increase the amount of milk gradually, with about a tablespoonful added every day, till the desired amount is reached.

Don't Weaken

Be very sure you do not weaken so as to let her have any food at a meal, or have food before her, till after she has drunk the milk. This advice will be hard for you to follow. It may cause you heartaches. But if you have the stuff in you to follow this advice, the problem should be completely solved after a few weeks or months. Just remember that you are not going to coax or tell her to drink milk, nor let anybody else do so. Be wholly speechless about her food or eating. I wish you would report to (Continued On Page Five)

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE NEED
Greater the need for smiles today
And more the need for singing.
We who at home are forced to stay
To courage must keep clinging.

The ones afar will want to learn
That we their tasks are sharing;
That still the home fires brightly burn
And we are not despairing.

All those at home who watch and wait
Against the fears that strain their
The anxious doubts, the sorrows great,
Need friendship to sustain them.

Let's be as brave at home, as they
Who risk their lives for duty.
There's greater need for faith to-day
And mirth and song and beauty.

Bible Thought For Today

Do you think yourself too sophisticated to submit to rules and discipline? Christ set a good example by conforming to baptism by John; Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John in Jordan.—Mark 1:9.

Hints On Etiquette

You should be courteous to your little child as well as to adults. Don't walk so fast when with a small child that his short legs can't keep up without running, which is tiring.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 7:34. Sun rises tomorrow 6:28.

After all is said, marriage is still the greatest institution in the world. We could not get along without it and all its troubles.

Jap landing parties, we are told bring along a four-day's food supply. On the other hand we are told that people don't eat food where the Japs are going.

The real forgotten man these days is the man who has no money and no way of getting any.

ALL HONOR TO HER

He offered himself for the land he loved.

But what shall we say for her? He gave to his country a soldier's life.

'Twas dearer by far to the soldier's wife.

All honor today to her!

He went to the war while his blood was hot.

But what shall we say for her? He saw himself through the battle's flame.

A hero's reward on the scroll of fame.

What honor is due to her?

He offered himself, but his wife did more.

All honor today to her!

For dearer than life was the gift she gave.

In giving the life she would die to save.

What honor is due to her?

He gave up his life at his country's call.

But what shall we say for her? He offered himself as a sacrifice.

But she is the one who pays the price.

All honor we owe to her.

We notice a farmer the other day breaking up the old machinery in his barn yard. That beats looking for old hairpins and razor blades.

"Why didn't you yell for help when that sailor kissed you?" "Sister, that sailor didn't need any help."

Just walking in a parade is nothing compared to making plans for the parade and those who make the plans have to walk.

THOUGHTFULNESS

Aged Pedestrian—You young mixer! Why didn't you foot your horn when you saw me in the middle of the road?

Flapperette—"Oh, I thought it would be more merciful if you didn't know what struck you. Goodbye."

We are told to do what we want to do, but not to do too much of it.

Driving all the parasites out of Washington without holding a national election would be a heavy undertaking.

If a friend borrows $3 and never returns it, he feels ashamed; but his conscience never troubles him about a $3 book.

You will be sorry when you can't get any tires, but why speed and be sorry so much sooner?

Life's paradox: If you want things to come your way you must overtake them.

WHY HORSES SHY; MULES DON'T

It is explained that the reason horses shy at unexpected sounds or at sights of strange objects while their relative, the mule, doesn't is chiefly hereditary. Horses are descended from ancestors that roamed the plains where clumps of grass or bushes perhaps concealed danger. On the other hand, mules are de-

THE LUCK OF NAIL-CUTTING

A very old superstition still persists regarding nails, and the lucky and unlucky days to cut them.

The following rhyme is common to all parts of the country:

"A man had better never be born than to have his nails on a Sunday shorn."

Another version runs to this effect:

"Cut your nails on Monday, cut them for news;

Cut them on Tuesday, a pair of new shoes;

Cut them on Wednesday, cut them for health;

Cut them on Thursday, cut them for wealth;

Cut them on Friday, a sweetheart to know;

Cut them on Saturday, a journey to go;

Cut them on Sunday, you cut them for evil.

For all the next week you'll be ruled by the devil."

Lady of the house: "Norah, the window in your room is so dirty, you can't see out of it." Norah: "But, madam, when I want to look out I open it."

Taking the cuffs off men's pants is going to cause a lot of trouble and a lot of people are going to be cuffed around a lot sooner.

ALABAMA CITY UNDER FIVE FLAGS

The city of Mobile, Ala., has been under the rule of five nations. The flags of France, England, Spain, the United States and the Confederate States have flown over that city.

Any husband who calls his wife "Sugar" has a start on any scarcity that may develop.

Perhaps it would be a good idea not to give the present war a name until it is over.

GET IT FIXED!

A Swedish farmer who wanted to make his permanent home in this country appeared for his naturalization papers.

Inquirer: "Are you satisfied with the general conditions of this country?"

Swede: "Yah, sure."

Inquirer: "And does this government of ours suit you?"

Swede: "Well, yah, mostly, only I lak see more rain."

A local bard asked us yesterday what we would do if we stood in his shoes. We told him we would give them a shine to start with.

There's a hint from a senate investigating committee that some of the dollar a year men ought to be reduced to 95 cents.

Singapore was "vital" and the Japs took it. If Hawaii is vital to our safety, why gamble on "inadequate" defenses?

Once your hands are dirty, more dirt doesn't seem to matter. This is also true of moral dirt.

If you get well, the doctor gets the credit; if you die, heaven gets you in spite of all the doctor could do.

Do nothing but talk, if you prefer. But remember what happened to the people over there who thought it a phony war.

Another thing that puzzles us is how a bureaucrat knows there is a machine tool shortage without counting the shattered thousands that are idle.

Hiding facts from the people, as though they were children, may preserve morale now, but can you trust morale built on soft soap?

The spies are not the dangerous ones. If they don't intern our rich fascists, as England did, they will cripple our war effort in every way they can.

Question: At what meals is a buffet service permissible? My wedding reception will take place at seven p. m. and I wondered if I might correctly serve my refreshments in this way.—Bride.

Answer: Indeed, yes, you may correctly serve a buffet supper at a seven o'clock wedding reception. This type of service is proper at any hour of the day. It is especially convenient when there is a great number of guests at a home wedding reception.

Question: Should I have "Mr." inserted on my business card?—C. L.

Answer: In the majority of cases "Mr." is not used, but some men prefer it, and therefore have it inserted before their name.

Question: When should crumbs be brushed from the table during dinner?—Young Hostess.

Answer: After the salad course has been eaten and the plates removed, salt and pepper shakers and flat silver are taken away, so that nothing remains except the glasses and bonbon dishes (if any), the crumbs should then be brushed from the table with a folded napkin.

Better Name For This War Important
Historians Will Soon Write Records
Believe Confusion May Result Later

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Quite a controversy has broken out among authorities who presently will start writing its history, as to what our current war ought to be called. The theory is that wars are entitled to a name each, such as will identify 'em all, separately from one another.

Everybody understands perfectly what's meant by a reference to our Revolutionary war. There's no confusion when the Mexican war is mentioned. Our clash between the states is variously termed our War of Rebellion, our War of Secession and our Civil war, but any one of these designations is accurate enough to be unmistakable. Foreign wars have been the same way—the Boer war, the Napoleonic wars, the Thirty Year's war, and away back into the remote past, to the days of the Punic wars and assorted spells of international homicide. Ignoramus may be a bit uncertain concerning some of the very early ones, but historians tell 'em all apart without the slightest trouble.

It took President Roosevelt to raise the point that now, though, we've fallen into the bad habit of talking about World War I and World War II.

His criticism hadn't had more than sufficient time to get into print before the historical sharks had begun proclaiming in chorus that it was a point exceedingly well taken.

The Great Game Of Politics

to conceal from them the darkness of the picture. Only by facing them now with the grim realities can they be prepared for the bad news that every citizen in Washington knows is in store for us. Only by giving them the undiluted truth can they be steered to the fact that this will be a long war; that before it is over every able-bodied man under 40 either will be in defense work or in a uniform; that with every passing month the war will become grimmer and that in another year every citizen in the country will begin to feel the pinch; that before it is over, privation and pain and grief will come to most of us; that it is likely to be bitter and bloody, costly in lives and in treasure far beyond the last war, far beyond anything of which we have dreamed.

IT isn't defeatism to present these facts. It does not incite despair. It is, in fact, exactly the dose the American people ought to be given. Once these facts and the real facts—are driven home, they will not quail nor falter. On the contrary, there will be a stiffening of the American spirit from coast to coast. There will be an appreciation of the realities that will make them impatient with slackers and intolerant of incompetents. Once let the people comprehend fully what they are up against and they will buckle down to the job of crushing our enemies in a way they have not yet begun to do.

THE truth is bad, but it isn't too bad. It is distressing to know that our shipping production is far below our needs. It is terrible to know that there was no way to send help to the embattled American forces at Batavia that we had to stand helplessly by while they were overwhelmed by greatly superior numbers. It is bad to know that the Japanese still have control of the air as well as superiority at sea in the Far East. It is bad to know that there are influential men in Washington still intent upon pushing a social reform program regardless of the war. It is bad to know that money is being wasted. All these things are bad to know, but unless they are known, they will never be corrected. Administration publicity is not fashionable to convey this kind of information. There is too much effort to be blithe. It isn't necessary to be pessimistic, but certainly we ought to be realistic. Give the people the truth. Don't hold back unfavorable facts. Don't try to scare them, but give them the truth. They can take it.

The total physical volume of civilian goods and services purchased in the U. S. during 1942 probably will be little more than 1-10 below the record volume of 1941, the Department of Commerce reports.

REV. L. J. LINDSEY

The third quarterly meeting of the conference year will be held in Coaltown Free Methodist church, Waimo, over this week-end. All the services will be in charge of the district superintendent, Rev. L. J. Lindsey.

Mr. Lindsey will preach this evening, and on Sunday morning and evening. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered by the district superintendent Sunday at noon.

Rev. D. E. Joseph is pastor of the Waimo church.

What's What At A Glance

the ancients, in Old Testament days or thereabouts, had started off by recording War No. I and then War No. II and so on indefinitely up to date. Why now we're in the midst of War No. about 1,000,000, and nobody could keep the remotest track of the series between the first one and the millionth.

We fancy, according to the historians, that when we speak of a war as a WORLD WAR we've put it into a different classification from all other kinds, and as long as we don't have more than two or three of 'em, we can describe 'em numerically so's to be understood by posterity.

But what we forget, explain the experts, is that ALL wars probably are going to be worldwide henceforward, and a few centuries ahead, the figure'll be so formidable that school books won't be able to make any sense out of it.

President Roosevelt's scheme is to choose a suitable World War II name on the strength of a popular contest, like picking a designation for some new brand of soap or breakfast food. Savants don't very much prefer to make their own selections. The trouble is that they don't put forward a title that fits over-satisfactorily. "The War in Defense of Democracy" is proposed but it is lengthy and lacks pep. It's generally conceded. Furthermore, "defense" isn't exactly the term desired. "OFFENSE" is more popular. Yet even that won't look quite right in historical literature in 2044 or later.

Besides, World War I remains to be appropriately christened.

The Last War

Most American historians recorded it simply as "the World war" until the latest strife broke loose. European scribes usually named it "the Great war". It was the "European war" until the United States cracked into it. After that it ceased to be exclusively European. It wasn't any greater or more worldwide than this one, either. In fact, it wasn't as such.

President Roosevelt perhaps was joshing when he called for a name to fit the emergency, but the historians are serious. They're writing letters to the newspapers and breaking out into lectures and addressing themselves to college classes.

They've got two wars on their hands to get into text books, and they've got to have compact, pithy names to identify 'em by, and the demand for the current war's name is urgent.

Anybody with a good hunch on the subject will be making a substantial contribution to education by contributing it.

The War of What?

It must include a patriotic boost for the democracies or a vicious jab at the Axis or both, if a combination of 'em is possible.

It's President Roosevelt's inspiration. I'll gladly transmit hints to the White House, if available.

News Briefs From City Hall

Neither city nor State Motor police here have yet received any information concerning the man removed from here from an Erie-New Castle bus Thursday evening and taken into custody by the city police on a charge of "suspicion." The man who claimed to be a welder and who added he had lived in both Chicago and Erie was given into custody of the motor police and later was reportedly placed in custody of Erie police for questioning in connection with a recent murder of a sailor in that city.

Frank Bethel was the name of a man arrested in a Long avenue restaurant-saloon last night after he reportedly engaged in an argument with Ralph E. Reno, Castlewood, then reportedly drew a razor which Reno took from him. Pending the placing of an information by Reno against the latter was held in the city jail.

Hollanders Are Forced To Fight In Nazi Army

(International News Service)
MOSCOW—Among Axis prisoners taken during an engagement on the central front, numbered several Hollanders, a correspondent of the red army newspaper "Red Star" reported.

The Dutchmen made some interesting revelations as to the way in which they became "volunteers" in the German army.

It appears that they had been recruited for compulsory labor in German factories from their homes in and near Rotterdam. As soon as they arrived in Germany, however, they were told that they were to serve in the army and were shortly afterwards sent to the front.

There they were dispersed into various German infantry units and had spent several weeks in the front line before being captured by the advancing Russians.

In lower center can be seen columns of smoke drifting upward, remains of the Japanese stores on the island. (Central Press)

Herring Gulls Are Seen On Shenango

While down in the vicinity of the Shenango river, near the location of the former New Castle tin plant, Owen Fox recently noticed the flight of two strange birds.

Upon investigation, he found that they were Herring Gulls, with brownish grey backs and white breasts. Evidently these birds had been blown off their course during some stormy weather.

Generally these birds belong to the Great Lakes district. They have two outstanding traits, their ability to fly backward as well as forward, which they demonstrated that day, which helped Mr. Fox to determine the species of these feathered strangers. Another trait is that they differ from some gulls in that they also feed upon mice and rats, which make them a useful bird.

TRANSFERRED
Mrs. Tony Compello of West Cherry street has received word that her husband, Private Tony Compello, has been transferred from New Cumberland to Camp Wallace, Texas.

Claim Boys Are Shooting Birds

From reports that have come in during the past week of spring weather, boys have been active with air rifles, not only breaking windows of garages and other buildings but also shooting at robins.

Owen Fox desires to call the attention of parents whose boys own air rifles, that use of these guns are forbidden by ordinance, within the city limits.

The shooting at robins, or killing or injuring them or any other song bird, is punishable with a heavy fine as the birds are protected by the Federal government.

Not only birds are endangered by the reckless shooting of these guns, but persons have often been shot in the eye and sustained other injuries.

ANOTHER YEAR—Yanks, led by Joe McCarthy, left, and Red Sox, headed by Joe Cronin, are one-time choices in American league.

American League Ready To Tee Off

Teams Set To Follow Same Old Pattern—Beat The New York Yankees

CLEVELAND INDIANS EXHIBITING SPIRIT

By H. C. WARREN
International News Service
Sports Editor

CHICAGO, April 11.—The American League was ready today to swing into its forty-second baseball season Tuesday with more than a reasonable doubt existing that its complete 1942 schedule will ever be completed.

Despite President Roosevelt's desires that baseball "carry on," every manager in the league is prepared to send star players into the army and navy to reinforce America's far flung battle front as the occasions arise. Major league stars have already donned baseball uniforms for the duration before the season actually gets under way.

More and more stars will break ranks in baseball as the season progresses.

Same Old Pattern
The American League is ready to follow an old, familiar pattern—the attempt to overtake the New York Yankees. As the season gets under way three or four clubs are given an outside-away outside—chance to hold the Yankees in leash.

The Chicago White Sox, boasting the best pitching staff in the league are set in the role of probable contenders for the American League flag along with the Washington Senators, the Cleveland Indians, the Boston Red Sox and possibly the Detroit Tigers.

The White Sox tried to move into a jockeying position in the league race last year with their pitching staff alone, but they lacked the offensive to go anywhere. Wally Moses, who hit consistently for the Philadelphia Athletics, has been acquired by Chicago, in an attempt to add offensive strength.

Manager Jimmy Dykes also sees some hopes in the improved hitting of Don Kolloway and Bob Kennedy. The Sox hopes seem to rest on the ability of Moses, Kolloway and Kennedy to come through to assist the batting of veterans Luke Appling and Taft Wright. The latter paced the Sox last season with a .322 average, while Appling was second with .314.

Washington has lost Cecil Travis and Buddy Lewis, but the Senators have a vastly improved pitching staff. Buck Newsum, acquired from the Detroit Tigers, must still be regarded as an unknown quantity. "Bobby" Harris, who pitched most of his work of last year and the preceding year will testify. Two years ago Newsum was one of the outstanding stars in the World Series with the Cincinnati Reds. Last year with Detroit he won 12 and lost 20 games. However, Manager is figuring on a change of pasture in increasing Bobby's worth as a pitcher. A change in scenery has helped Newsum in the past.

Indians Show Spark
The Cleveland Indians, playing under their new manager youthful Lou Boudreau, have exhibited a new spark and morale in spring training games. The Indians' chances of affording any great amount of competition for the Yankees apparently hinges on the ability of several rookies to come through.

Ted (406) Williams, as usual is expected to supply the batting punch of the Boston Red Sox along with Dominic DiMaggio, Ervin Fox, and possibly, Boston hopes, Lou Lou Finney. Then Boston will open the season with Johnny Pesky, 22-year-old rookie in the shortstop post held so long by Manager Joe Cronin. Pesky hit .325 with Louisville last season and the previous year and last year was voted the most valuable player in the American Association.

The St. Louis Browns won 14 out of their 19 spring training games and with a few breaks could easily land in the first division. Manager Luke Sewell has been handicapped in acquiring new playing strength by a lack of available funds, but he had rounded up a hard fighting club that may carry on from the start the Browns made in the "grapefruit league."

New players will decide the destination of both the Detroit Tigers and the Philadelphia Athletics, while the Yankees, making only a few changes in personnel, look capable of walking in again, unless the draft takes too heavy a toll.

Sportsmen Meet Tuesday Night

New Project, Vital To All Sportsmen, Will Be Discussed During Session

Members of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's association will hold their monthly meeting in the Veterans of Foreign War hall, East Washington street, on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. H. M. Drio, secretary, announced today.

A new project vital to all sportsmen, will be discussed. The entertainment committee has secured a splendid film from the Pennsylvania Fish Commission entitled, "Trout at a Fish Farm." In view of the fact that the trout season opens Wednesday, the film is timely and should be enjoyed by the gallery.

Regarding the trout season, Secretary Drio reminds sportsmen not to forget the new regulation regarding the opening time. No fishing will be permissible in any stream stocked with trout between 5 p. m. Tuesday, April 14 and 5 a. m. Wednesday, April 15, (war-time). Reports indicate that streams have all been well stocked and that the pre season stocking is all complete. The last shipment arrived last Wednesday.

Golf Equipment Will Last Year, Dudley Asserts

Will Discontinue Manufacturing Golf Equipment After May 31

(International News Service)
AUGUSTA, Ga., April 11.—Golf won't be vitally affected for this season by the government's decision to discontinue manufacture of all equipment after May 31, President Ed. Dudley, of the professionals Golfers Association, said today.

"We've got enough equipment on hand to carry through this year anyway," Dudley said. "And we're all Americans and are less interested in golf than winning the war. You can rest assured that professional golfers throughout the nation will do their part. We are all planning to continue doing our part for the Red Cross and War Relief."

Freddy Corcoran, tournament manager for the Pro golfers, said the government's action will in no way affect the P. G. A. National Championship scheduled at Atlantic City May 25-31, and the rest of the Pro schedule will be played, unless the President should rescind his recent "go ahead."

Leading professionals playing here were optimistic for this year, and see no reason for curtailment of their program at this time.

Griff Hopes F. D. R. Can Attend Opener

President Roosevelt Has Tossed Out First Ball For Past Nine Years

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 11.—Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, today expressed hope that President Roosevelt would be able to attend the opening game of the baseball season next Tuesday when the Nats meet the Yankees in Griffith stadium.

Pressed with a rush of executive duties, the President would give no assurance of his presence at the opener when Griffith and National League President Ford Frick called at the White House to present him with a gold-plated pass for all 1942 games.

"I hope he will attend, but it's up to him," said Griffith.

If Mr. Roosevelt fails to put in an appearance, it will be the first time in his 10 years as President that he has failed to throw out the first ball to start the campaign rolling.

Weather permitting, the Senators are scheduled to meet the Phils today in an exhibition tilt, with big Jack Wilson starting on the mound for the Nats.

Rain Postpones Track Practices

Rain has forced New Castle high's track squad to forget the sport during the past two days. Coach William "Bill" Klee said today.

With the interclass track and field meet booked for Thursday and Friday, it is hoped that the weather men turn loose some sunshine so that the schoolboys can get in a few solid ticks before the meet starts.

The cinder-grinding fraternity returns to Taggart stadium Monday afternoon.

SEES TRACK BOOM

PHILADELPHIA—Present emphasis on physical fitness through the Hale America Program has created a rebirth of interest in track and field that should endure throughout the war, according to Lawson Robertson, Penn track coach.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Saturday sports jottings:—

Confident of grabbing some of the honors, the Gerson Girls' Tennis bowling team left the city this afternoon to participate in the Pittsburgh City Bowling tournament slated for tomorrow. The local girls (all Mrs.) are Louise Rafferty, captain; Laura Miles, Ruth Anderson, Evelyn Cox and Mae Weiss.

New Castle high's annual interclass track and field meet, carded for Taggart stadium and Friday afternoon, will top next week's local sports card. Clyde "Red" Uber, the localite who gridironed at Thiel college and is currently in the U. S. Army Air Corps, spent part of his recent furlough here.

Paul McCullough, a baseballer since 1917, stopped in to verify reports that he's in top shape for the coming season. McCullough, who topped the scales at 170 during his major and minor league career, is a 168 pounder. Despite the fact that he's 42, Paul says he has a few irons in the stove and may wind up with a relief pitching job in a pretty good league.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 11.—The clubhouse was crowded by golfers who had just finished the first round of the masters championship. The rain eked its way through the pines in a slow Georgia drizzle, and red clay shone in patches here and there across the hollow. Ben Hogan stood on the upstairs porch looking over toward the practice

"Reckon it will stop raining?" he asked. "I'd like to practice."

Hogan, who comes from Dublin, Tex., in the cow country out beyond Fort Worth is the most feared man in golf today and has no intention of relinquishing that preeminent position for a while yet. He had shot a 73 and, as he peered into the Georgia dusk, he was thinking of only one thing—how to shoot a 73 on his next round.

Someone said he is the most feared man among his fellow-professionals since Jones himself was spreading the field. If he doesn't win you still have got to beat him, and as they started the second round the field was more apprehensive than ever. A 73 on the first round for the slight, quiet Texan didn't fool them.

"He'll probably bounce back with a 65," one of them said. "And if he doesn't stay in the fight for the top prize he will give the rest of us a tussle for the rest of the money." There is no other man in golf who could shoot a first round 73 on this par 72 course and still worry the rest of the field. They know he will be tougher than ever from here on out, barring a most unexpected upset. He was the pre-tournament favorite and hasn't lost much of his prestige despite that 73.

Smallest Big Timer

One of the smallest big-timers in the history of the game, he is one of the longest drivers and for the last three years in a row has been the leading money-winner. Right now he is in front with $8,800 picked up on the winter gypsy trail, including wins in the Los Angeles Open, the San Francisco Open, the North and South, and the Land of the Sky Tournament at Asheville, N. C.

He doesn't weigh over 140 pounds and veterans such as Tammy Armour, Hagen and Sarazen and the rest have eyed him in action wondering where he gets his power. All he knows is that he lams the ball—about 300 yards. He practices while he is playing a practice round by constantly dropping balls and trying shots over and over and takes a putter home with him at night to line them up on the carpet.

"I'd rather practice than play," he said. "I love to practice—just to hit a ball. He used to be good for other sports, too, but never had much time for them, except boxing."

Was A Fighter
He never will forget when he was about nine years old, 20 years ago, he got his first big payday as an athlete. He fought Gib Sellers in the lobby of the Texas Hotel at Fort Worth and went home with two buckets of nickels thrown into the ring. "It was pretty good for a kid," he said, looking again at the practice tee as the rain kept Shellog brothers? ... Garne DeLeone, prey of the City-County Independent loop, says that the circuit expects to start swing early in May.

Fabian Gaffke, the ex-Minneapolis clownish deluge and now scrapping for a Cleveland Indian berth, says he'll give up baseball if he fails to make the grade with the Ohio outfit. ... One of Lou Novikov's biggest drawbacks is a weak throwing arm. His Cub mate, Dom Dalesandro, who is also an outfielder, has the same ailment.

News of "Babe" Ruth's illness kept the sports department phone buzzing during the past couple of days. The Bambino is still one of the most colorful figures in the game. ... Dick Wakefield, the highly prized Michigan U. slugger signed at a fancy figure by the Detroit Tigers, will be sent out to graze in minor pastures.

These hockey play-offs are as bad as those minor league Shogunessy eliminations. Here it is three days before the opening of the majors and the ice riders are still banging away for the Stanley cup. Like a lot of other sports, the season should be shaved. ... Basketball, still going on in a lot of towns, is another game forced down the throat of fandom until almost mid-April.

Dempsey-Tunney Aid War Charity

Fistic Rivals Bury Hatchet To Go All Out To Help Win The War

NEW YORK, April 11.—The leading figures in one of the prize ring's most heated controversies buried the hatchet for a long count today as Commander Gene Tunney, US-NRF and Jack Dempsey, ex-heavyweight king, joined forces in behalf of the Knights of Columbus War Activities Ball to be held here May 1.

Commander Tunney, in charge of the physical training activities of the United States Navy, heads a sports committee which numbers among its members some of the most brilliant sporting luminaries of the last decade. In addition to the two former champs, the fight game's representatives include Don Dunphy, ace fight announcer; William F. Carey, former president of Madison Square Garden; and Arthur Donovan, famed referee.

Representing the track world is Gregory Rice, the world's greatest distance runner; while Lt.-Commander James Crowley, USNR, of Notre Dame's "Four Horsemen" and more recently Fordham coach carries the ball for the pickskin fraternity.

The baseball diamond is represented by Tom Henrich and Buddy Hassett, New York Yankees of today, with the one and only "Babe" Ruth swinging for the Murderer's Row of bygone years.

Turning back the clock to the First World War days of 1917 when their famous slogan "Everybody Welcome, Everything Free" was known wherever American troops fought and died, the Knights will devote the major portion of the proceeds of the affair to the National Catholic Community Service. Operating under the direction of Archbishop Francis J. Spellman, the N.C.C.S. provides entertainment and hospitality to the members of our armed forces, regardless of creed.

President Roosevelt Receives His Annual Gold-Plated Baseball Pass

WASHINGTON, April 11.—President Roosevelt Friday received his annual gold-plated baseball pass along with an invitation to throw the first ball at the opening game in Washington's Griffith stadium next Tuesday between the Senators and the New York Yankees.

Asked if the President would follow his usual custom and throw out the first ball Griffith said he "didn't know whether he would come or not."

Donovan Heads Baseball Loop

Popular Sportsman Selected To Head City League During Meeting Friday

HALF DOZEN TEAMS COMPRISE LEAGUE

Popular Michael Donovan is the new major domo of the City Baseball league.

Donovan, who served as secretary last season, was named head of the six year old circuit on Friday night in the Y. M. C. A. when league fathers met.

The new president succeeds the Rev. Fr. Peter Schirra who was named as honorary president along with C. P. Walther.

Eddie Conner was elected as vice president. Michael "Jake" Bobovsky, one of New Castle's sports minded citizens, drew the task of secretary and treasurer for the sixth consecutive time.

The loop is comprised of six teams headed by last season's kings, the Moose. Then come the Elders, West Pittsburgh, Slovaks, Croton and the Lawrence Indies. The teams have already forwarded their franchise money.

The following managers were present:

"Fiz" Rodenbaugh, of Moose; J. O'Leary, of the Elders; "Blackie" Funduola, of West Pittsburgh; Steve Gonda, of Slovaks; Colucci, of Croton; and Chumura, of the Lawrence Indies.

The group discussed rules, adoption of equipment and other problems confronting a baseball league. The next meeting will be held on Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A.

Bettina Easily Whips Beckwith

Negro Battler Is Rushed To Hospital; 12,000 Fans See Fight Friday

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, April 11.—Mello Bettina, Beacon, N. Y., heavyweight contender, today held a 10-round decision over Booker Beckwith, Gary, Ind., negro, who suffered an injury to the sacro-iliac bone and was rushed to a hospital following their fight in Chicago Stadium last night.

Bettina coasted to an easy victory before nearly 12,000 fans who paid $24.02, gross, to witness the battle. Doctors ordered Beckwith taken to the hospital after the fight ended, but the negro's manager said he believed the injury was sustained in the sixth round.

Beckwith, who was kicked by Bob Pastor in the same ring last November, weighed in at 175 pounds. Bettina had a 9-14 pound advantage, weighing 184 3-4.

Officials voted a draw between Tony Motisi, Chicago, and Harry Teaney, Cleveland, in a 10-round preliminary fight.

Altus Allen, Chicago heavyweight, knocked out Al Reiss, Detroit, in one minute, 19 seconds of the first round.

County Coaches' Election Tuesday

New officers will be elected on Tuesday evening in the Y. M. C. A. when the Lawrence County Coaches association stages its meeting.

In addition to the election, the 1942-43 basketball schedule will be adopted.

The meeting starts at 8 o'clock.

EARLY GOLF TABOO

Del Baker, Detroit manager, outlaws all golf playing after his club had been in spring camp 10 days. "Golf is okay before exhibition games start, but once they are on I want the boys to concentrate on their business—and golf takes too much out of the legs," he explained.

Nelson Sets Pace In Masters Event

Toledoan Fires 67 For 135 Score; Sammy Byrd Is Second With 136

GIGANTIC GOLF MEET WILL END ON SUNDAY

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NATIONAL GOLF CLUB, Augusta, Ga., April 11.—Beat Nelson and take it all.

That was the battle cry of the golfers today as they started out on the third round of the Masters' Championship in pursuit of the long legged Texan playing out of Toledo, Ohio.

The man that beats him probably will get the big prize on Sunday evening when the 72-hole tussle will come to an end, for the lanky blond fellow is winging—giving them something to shoot at.

Tough Title
Winner of the title in 1937 with a nerve-tangling stroke, winner of the U. S. Open in 1939 in a double playoff and of the professional championship in 1940 in a sensational final with Sam Snead, Nelson clearly has the inside track to become the second man ever to win this event twice, the other being Horton Smith. It will take lightning to stop him now.

And you wouldn't be that confident about any other golfer except Nelson. Others may blow after a great start, but he won't—or he seldom has, not with a start as he has here with a record equalling 135 for the opening 36 holes.

When he fired that 67, five under par yesterday, to go with his opening day 68 to equal Henry Picard's two-round record set in 1936 he probably ended the hopes of the rest, except possible Sam Byrd, who gave up an empty career as understudy to Babe Ruth in the New York Yankee outfield to go on to a golfing career which is getting more promising all the time.

Winner of the recent Greensboro open, his first big prize, Byrd pounced in there today with a second and successive 68 to wind up just one stroke behind Nelson after the first two rounds.

Runyan Has 140
After those two came gloom, then back at 140 Paul Runyan and Horton Smith the first day leaders, and Jimmy Demaret, followed by Jimmy Thomson and Ben Hogan with 148, then Dutch Harrison and Willie Goggin, 144, Denny Shute and Lawson Little 145, and more gloom, increasing frustration and very little money from there on out.

The winner must have been mentioned somewhere in the foregoing and it probably is or was or will be Nelson. If not then Byrd. If not Byrd, then the little lady selling programs on the first tee. She is as good a bet as anybody. If Nelson can't hold a one stroke lead over Byrd and Byrd can't hold a four stroke lead over the rest.

And among the rest was Craig Wood, the open and defending champion, who today put a 75 with his 72 and yesterday for a two-day 147, which means good-bye to him. It's good-bye to Bobby Jones too, who threatened on the opening day to do something when he shot a par 72. He came back yesterday with a 75. Gene Sarazen shot a 74, but had a previous 80 and Sam Snead fired a 69, but had a first round 78, and they too, are out of this.

In fact, the winner must be Nelson and if not, then Byrd, Runyan, Demaret or Smith. And if you want to pick against Nelson go ahead. But you've been warned.

Green Light For Oil Wildcatting In Pennsylvania

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, April 11.—The federal government on Friday gave the "green light" to "wildcatting" in the Pennsylvania crude oil fields.

Donald R. Knowlton, director of production in the office of petroleum coordinator at Washington, told delegates to the annual meeting of the eastern district division of production at Pittsburgh that the shortage of this world's finest lubricant is being keenly felt in the war effort.

Knowlton also urged oil producers of the nation to drill and use well where ordinarily they would drill two. He said the steel casing used in sinking an oil well "would put two 30-ton fighting tanks on the battlefield."

In urging the producers to greater "wildcatting" efforts, Knowlton explained that an oil reserve of some 19 or 20 billion barrels exists, but we all know that for the future, new reserves must be found.

Various oil men at the meeting conceded that the fuel shortage along the eastern seaboard was acute. Estimates of the supply on hand ranged from a 15-day supply to 30 days.

Walter S. Hallman, president of the Plymouth Oil Co. and chairman of the oil production committee for District No. 1, said:

"The oil industry faces a responsibility never before dreamed of—but the spirit that has brought this industry to first position in all the world, will be dedicated in an all-out effort to supply the petroleum requirements of the Allied cause."

HARRISBURG, April 11.—The Pennsylvania State School of Aeronautics to train workers for aircraft maintenance has opened in the State Farm Show building at Harrisburg with an initial class of 1125 trainees, the Department of Public Instruction announced today.

The project formerly was operated at the Middletown air depot but expansion of the training program forced officials of the Army Air Corps to move to the $1,000,000 exhibition building. Officials propose to train more than 4,000 workers in double shifts.

Persons admitted to training by U. S. civil service commissioners will receive a training wage of $75 a month and will have the amount increased to $125 a month when transferred to production lines. Applicants must be between the ages of 18 and 62.

Trainees will receive instruction in engine repair, sheet metal work, parachute packing, welding machine operations, M. hydraulics, electricity and instrument repair.

Salvage Collection To Start April 15

You wouldn't hide a machine gun in your cellar, knowing the need of them by the American soldiers. Nor would you hide a medium tank in your barn, nor a jeep in your garage.

Right now machine guns and tanks and jeeps are badly needed and like every other American you want to do your share towards seeing that they get into the hands of American soldiers and sailors as quickly as possible.

All unconsciously you may be hiding part of a machine gun in your cellar or part of a tank in your barn. Not in those particular shapes but in the shape of steel and iron scrap and other metals such as brass, zinc, copper and lead.

Or you may have a lot of old rubber tires, boots, overalls, inner tubes and the like lying in the cellar or garage. They are needed too, badly needed for the war.

Dig out the scrap materials you have, get them into a pile and sell them for victory. Your government needs all sorts of scrap now, needs it so direly that a dozen or more blast furnaces are idle because they have not enough scrap. You can help to start the smoke billowing from those stacks in a hurry if you will help in the "Salvage For Victory" campaign.

The campaign for scrap materials, metal, rubber and rags (not paper as yet) starts in Lawrence county April 15 and 16 when Ellwood City will clean up its salvage material. On April 17 and 18 the other towns will be cleaned, the week of April 20 New Castle will clean house and from April 27 to 30 the townships will do their share.

You are not asked to contribute your scrap materials. Arrangements have been made to have each street and road in the county covered by authorized scrap collectors. They will weigh your scrap and pay you fifty cents per hundred pounds for it.

The scrap will then be collected in junk yards and shipped to mills needing it. You need not be afraid of anyone making a lot of money on your scrap for the scrap dealer gets only $20 per ton for it, (less than 1 cent per pound) and he has to haul it, clean it and cut it to size.

This is an opportunity for every householder, every business man, every farmer to help take a slap at the Japs. Die out those discarded steel toys, shovels, hoes, discarded tools, iron bedsteads, anything made of metal or rubber. Save your old rags also.

"Salvage for Victory" in Lawrence county is from April 15 to April 30. Do your share by gathering all the scrap materials you have around the house or farm. Government officials estimate that the average scrap materials around every farm should weigh 500 pounds. In homes about an average of 75 pounds.

Be ready for the scrap collector.

Mitchell Way Women Work For Red Cross

Rural Group Completes Over
1,300 Garments During Past Year

The Mitchell Way Red Cross Auxiliary under the leadership of Mrs. R. T. Ellison has completed a year's work in sewing, showing the completion of 1,330 garments.

Mrs. Carl Mason, chairman of the group has had working with Mrs. Ellison, a fine representation from the Mitchell Way district. Mrs. Ellison is leaving the community and her place will be filled by a leader appointed by Mrs. Mason.

Aside from the sewing, some of the women have been very busy knitting, showing a total of 33 knitted garments. The chapter regrets the withdrawal of Mrs. Ellison from the Sewing Project in this district.

And now that we're going back to the horse and buggy days it is possible for Cascade park to stage a comeback? Some believe so and the city through exploitation might be able to again make the recreation center a very popular picnic ground.

More than a score years ago it was not uncommon for railroads to run excursions into Cascade park. The picnicers came from near and far. With the coming of the auto and the cessation of picnic trains direct to the park the street car company failed to make profits and finally it was given to the city in lieu of taxes.

Excepting for a few industries have been picnicking outside the city. Why not make a stiff effort to have not only local but also nearby industries hold their outings there this year?

The park has an excellent dance hall and a good pool in which to bathe. The latter would please young the same as old. The merry-go-round and Dodge and bosting would be available for the young. There are excellent facilities for diners in the grove. As things now stand Cascade park in the main blossoms only at night when dancing is in vogue.

Would it or would it not be funny if a punch clock were placed in city hall and every person, high and low, required to punch it daily, excepting when out of town owing to official business?

Is it within the province of city health authorities to force owners of vacant property and those having empty lots to clean the windows?

It is reported that the assessors will view every property in order to make the triennial assessment. It has been asserted in past years that this was not done. Jack Cartwright says it will be done this year. Three men are on the job. This is the only way a true appraisal can be made.

Maximum prices have been fixed for motion picture theater admissions in Canada, reports to the Department of Commerce say.
